

MILLIONAIRE ELLIOTT AGAIN ON HONEYMOON

Just Divorced by Second Wife,
He Secretly Weds a Third.

ON WAY TO EUROPE.

Did Not Contest Suit of Former Spouse and Gave Her $1,000,000.

Announcement was made to-day of the marriage of John Love Elliott, the mining millionaire, who gave his wife $1,000,000 two weeks ago when she divorced him, and a Miss Moore, daughter of Mrs. F. C. Moore, of West Sixty-fifth street. The marriage was so secretly celebrated that it was practically an elopement, and Elliott and his bride are now on the high sea, bound for Europe. On their return they will make their home at the Wyoming apartment hotel, Fifty-sixth street and seventh avenue.

The former Mrs. Elliott, who is traveling with her little daughter was not aware that her ex-husband was planning another marriage. When she brought suit for divorce in Westchester County in April the proceedings were most secret. The name of the co-respondent was carefully guarded. The final decree was signed on May 15, and a few days later Elliott made Miss Moore his wife.

This is the millionaire's third matrimonial venture. His first wife whom he married on short notice when a very young man, died leaving him two children. In 1900 he met Ethel Irene Stewart, an actress, who came here from California and who first became known as a choir singer. She went on the stage and secured an engagement with "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" Company. Her meeting with Elliott was followed by marriage a few weeks later and Elliott opened his mansion at No. 110 West Fifty-seventh street.

Until Mrs. Elliott filed her suit it was supposed the couple were happy. Elliott made no contest to reduce the amount of alimony she asked, and even if she remarries the major portion of the million will continue here.

Elliott is President of the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company, Vice-President of the Embree Iron Company and a director in many other concerns. He is a member of the Metropolitan and other rich men's clubs.

Preserves the Youthful Charm

There is no reason why the clearness and glow of skin that naturally accompany healthy youth should not be equally natural in maturity.

No reason why the exposure of summer pleasuring should ravage the most delicate complexion. Proper daily care, along Nature's own lines, is the secret of a perfect complexion under all conditions.

The frequent application of pure, soft water brought to a snowy, grateful lather with will work wonders, naturally. Pond's Extract Soap combines the cleansing properties of a toilet soap of superlative merit with the stimulating, healing influence of Pond's Extract.

Its use prevents not only unpleasant harshness but the tendency to undue oiliness—keeps the skin wholesome, soft, velvety, rose-tinted.
